RALEIGH, NC (September 11, 2013) – The Food Bank of Central & Eastern North Carolina was joined by Triangle-area companies at 9:30 a.m. on September 11, to package 100,000 meals for families at risk of hunger. The event “Sort-A-Rama Day of Service” was held as a creative way for the community to honor the memory of those lost on 9/11 and is one of the largest volunteer projects in the area.”

Presenting partners Blue Cross and BlueShield of North Carolina (BCBSNC), Cisco and Food Lion lead the effort to bring 700 corporate volunteers together from Bank of America, BASF, Coca-Cola, Fidelity Investments, Gregory Poole, Research Triangle Park, Strikelron, RTI, SunTrust, Wells Fargo, and Woodforest Bank to sort bulk-sized bins of assorted pasta and beans into family sized portions during Sort-A-Rama Day of Service. N.C Governor Pat McCrory provided welcome remarks to the volunteers and issued the ceremonial “first scoop”.

“We are extremely humbled to see hundreds of our corporate partners, some longtime and some new, honor the families who struggle to provide meals in our community in a way that honors the memory of 9/11,” said Peter Werbicki, President/CEO of the Food Bank. “We’re also grateful of the volunteers who selflessly give their time and energy in support of hunger-relief initiatives. Partnerships and actions such as these provide a strong foundation for our mission: No One Goes Hungry in Central & Eastern North Carolina.”

Opening remarks by Dana Lange, Chair of the Food Bank Board of Directors, were followed by BoyScout Troop #39 presenting the colors and vocalists from BCBSNC singing the National Anthem. A moment of silence was held to remember those lost on 9/11.

Lead executives from the presenting companies offered brief final comments before 700 corporate volunteers begin the sorting project at 10 a.m.

"Cisco focuses on connecting the unconnected and supporting critical human needs for those in our community," said Jeff Zirker, Senior Director of Global Technical Services. "Today, we are honored to connect 175 Cisco executives and employees with the Food Bank to prepare meals for families in need."

"9/11 is a day for finding strength and unity in our communities; and we're very proud to serve thousands across the Triangle who would otherwise go hungry, while honoring those who fell on our nation's darkest day," said Kathy Higgins, Vice President, Corporate Affairs, BCBSNC.

"Food Lion's longstanding partnership with the Food Bank of Central and Eastern North Carolina over the past five years has provided more than 49.7 million pounds of food, which has helped provide 41.4 million meals," said Mike Hall, Food Lion's Director of Operations for the Raleigh and Henderson areas. "We expect our associates will have a great time volunteering at Sort-a-rama. Our employees enjoy helping people in creative ways, including this event."

Corporate leaders provided additional support in the following ways:

- o BASF, BCBSNC, and Cisco will provide Sort-A-Rama Day of Service hats to all participating volunteers.
- o Food Lion donated an additional $5,000 to purchase bulk product to be sorted.
- o Gregory Poole donated use of forklifts and pallet jacks for the event.

September is Hunger Action Month across the country for Feeding America food banks. The 100,000 bagged meals will be immediately available for distribution through the Food Bank's network of partner agencies which include food pantries, rescue missions and soup kitchens to thousands of families in the Food Bank's 34-county service area.
